GRAND TRUNK AGREEMENT SUSPENDED IN MID-AIR

Ald. Bellamy Discovers Irregularity in Calling of Council Meeting Which Ratified the Agreement. Refused to Allow Third Reading Last Night

The Grand Trunk Pacific agreement which yesterday looked fair, fine and forcible, is today up in the air.

Ald. Bellamy, who was not at the meeting last Friday evening when the bylaw was passed authorizing the signing of the agreement, discovered last night that the meeting was not legally called and that therefore the agreement was of no effect.

When it was proposed to pass another bylaw re-ratifying the agreement, Alderman Bellamy refused to give his consent (unanimous consent being necessary) to the suspension of the rules so as to permit a third reading.

After having knocked out the meeting at which the agreement was ratified Ald. Bellamy proceeded to object to the agreement itself, on several grounds, claiming that it was not fair to the C. N. R., that the city was taking on its shoulders a dangerous monopoly and that the agreement should be ratified by vote of the ratepayers before becoming legal. His objections held the council up for two hours and at the conclusion he refused to give consent to taking a vote on the third reading.

Incidentally, Alderman Bellamy explained once again to his friends, the newspapers, that they did not know their business or they would long ago have published in full the text of the agreement with the G. T. P. Furthermore, he undertook to explain to the newspapers that the meeting of March 5th when Alderman Griestbach, Mayor May and City Solicitor Beck were appointed a delegation to go to Montreal and make an agreement with Frank W. Morse was the famous secret meeting of which so much was heard last spring. City Solicitor Beck also intimated something to the same effect, both apparently having forgotten that the secret meeting dealt with civic salaries and not railways. The civic salaries or secret meeting was held on Friday evening, March 23rd. The meeting at which the delegation to Ottawa was appointed was held on Monday, March 5th.

The trouble commenced last night with the reading of the minutes of the meetings of last week. The minutes of the regular meeting of Monday evening last were read and adopted but when the secretary, treasurer commenced to read the minutes of the special meeting of Friday evening last, Ald. Bellamy filed his objection. Page 38, clause 7, article 7, of the city charter, was invoked by Ald. Bellamy. It says: "The mayor shall call special meetings of the council whenever requested in writing to do so by a majority of the council and all the members of the council shall be duly notified of the meeting at least 24 hours prior thereto and (in general terms) of the business to be transacted."

Under this clause Ald. Bellamy first claimed that the mayor had not been asked in writing by a majority of the council to call a special meeting.

City Solicitor Beck was consulted and stated that in his opinion it was not essential that the mayor should be asked to call a meeting, as he had authority to call a special meeting of his own accord.

Alderman Bellamy then asked if the required 24 hours' notice had been given. Being assured that it had, he then objected that the business of the meeting was not stated in the notification.

Clerk Collins produced a copy of the notification which stated that a special meeting was called for the transaction of "general" business. Alderman Bellamy claimed that this did not legally fulfil the requirements of clause 7 as the meeting was for special and very important business.

The question was passed up to the city solicitor, and while the council continued to grind on routine business of the evening he retired into the sanctum sanctorum of the secretary-treasurer and pondered deeply as to where the city was at. At the close of fifteen minutes he returned to the council chamber and reported that in his opinion Alderman Bellamy's contention was correct and that the meeting was not legally called; that, therefore the agreement was of no effect.

It took Mayor May only a moment to grasp the situation, and, putting his hand to the lever, so to speak, he backed the council up and started it off again into the entangling maze of switches converging on the Grand Trunk Pacific agreement.

It had all to be done over again, from the first, so armed with a copy of the agreement Secretary-Treasurer Kinnaird commenced to draw off the clauses.

He got as far as clause 7, which provides that in case the G. T. P. fails to build its shops in the place mentioned in the agreement all its forfeits is the $100,000, which it will have to refund. The company would keep the right of way south of the C. N. R., which the city proposes to donate to the G. T. P. no matter whether the shops were built here or not.

Alderman Bellamy took the same view. Mayor May said that the clause had been quite thoroughly thrashed out and there need be no alarm about the shops being established here.

Ald. Smith asked if, in case the Grand Trunk Pacific broke faith with the city could not the city get back all that the city had given.

Solicitor Beck said that Alderman Bellamy was correct in his interpretation; that the city would be able to take back only the $100,000. The point was that had the city not undertaken to give them the $100,000 the company would not have agreed to put their shops in where they have. They might have put them there, but they would not have entered into an agreement to put them there. He thought that there was no question, seeing that the company had already purchased their land, that they were going to build the shops on the land.

Ald. Bellamy took exception to clause 5, granting the south 110

BUSINESS MEN OPPOSE PROJECT

Board of Trade Discussed Proposed High Level Bridge Project of the C. P. R.

An important meeting affecting the future and permanent interests of the city was held yesterday afternoon in the city hall by the board of trade. The meeting was large and representative, and a vigorous discussion was elicited.

A communication was read from Mr. Peters, general freight agent of the C.P.R., stating that the company had put teams upon the road between Edmonton and Strathcona to transport merchandise at the same cost as was heretofore charged for rail transport. Inquiry among the shippers of Edmonton shows the service is prompt and satisfactory.

The secretary, Mr. Fisher has been in communication with the railway authorities to extend the area to which the annual harvesters' excursion rates apply, so as to include Alberta. He informed the meeting the authorities had no intention of altering their policy in bringing harvesters further west than in former years.

A letter was read from the department of agriculture asking the co-operation of the board of trade in collecting samples for the government's exhibit at Halifax under the management of Mr. Frank Webb. The exhibit will include samples of this year's growing crops, and last year's grains. This matter has already been amply advertised in the newspapers and the work is in the hands of Messrs. Thos. Dale of Edmonton and James Fortie, Strathcona, who have already gathered a large exhibit. The board voted $50 to cover the expenses of the work.

Principal Riddell presented a resolution asking the same privileges extended by the railway authorities to students of the west who go east to study to be also extended to students of the east who desire to come to study at western colleges. Students going east pay single fare, while those coming west pay the regular round trip fare. The principal urged action in this matter as it was a step towards popularizing and widening the constituency of our institutions of learning in the West. Last year the students in attendance at Alberta college expended $24,000 in this city exclusive of the amounts spent by the students themselves which the principal said would average at least $8 per month. It was in the interests of the city to foster our educational institutions.

The resolution was passed. The board next took up the report of the committee on civic interests which is as follows:

In accordance with the instructions of a resolution of the last meeting of the Edmonton Board of Trade, your committee on civic interests begs to submit the following report:

C. P. R. ENTRANCE.

1. It is apparently proposed that the C.P.R. shall enter the city from the south adjacent to Block 9 H.B.R., crossing on a high level bridge there. The preliminary plan (but no profile or book of reference) has been filed, with that in view. To permit this crossing would result in the utmost damage to the best residential section of the city, and must have the further result of driving business away from its present location. The injury might be minimized somewhat by compelling the railway company to provide subways or overhead bridges over every street crossed; preventing the sounding of whistles and ringing of bells in the section in question; and compelling the use either of electric motive power for hauling traffic at the point, or the use of underground conduits for the overhead coal. This is being made compulsory in large cities in the States.

2. Your committee would, however, recommend that the C.P.R. be not allowed to cross the river at the point, but be compelled to cross on the east side at Kenny Macdonald's. A better crossing can be had there, slightly higher, but shorter. This would permit an entrance paralleling the C.N.R.; the land required would not be more costly than via Block 9; and as the C.N.R. and G.T.P. both coming that way would consolidate the railways, and easily provide for a union station.

To compensate for the increased distance involved, your committee would recommend a contribution of not more than $50,000 toward the cost.

3. Inasmuch as level crossings are highly dangerous to life and property, and the loss of life occasioned thereby is not being measurable in money, it is recommended that the eastern entrance be chosen; all railways brought together as much as possible; and subways for overhead bridges, as may be found best constructed. The cost now will not necessarily include damages to adjacent lands; will almost altogether do away with danger to life; and will protect present property values.

As, however, the agreements with the C.N.R. and G.T.P. railways do not

LEDUC FAIR HELD YESTERDAY

Larger Crowds and Better Exhibits Than in Former Years.

The Leduc Agricultural fair which was held yesterday was a great success. There were larger crowds than in previous years, and also a fine exhibit of live stock. Some of the stock that took first prize at the Provincial fair held in Edmonton on July 1, only got second. The judges were the two Government men, who have been judging at all the Alberta fairs. The racing and general sports were good. There were several Edmonton and Strathcona horses in the events.

THREE KILLED IN EXPLOSION.

(Special to the Bulletin.)

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 21.—Three men are dead, two are in a serious condition, and nine others rendered unconscious by a blowout of accumulated gas today at the Eliza furnaces. The dead are Geo. Marsley and Michael Boies. The men were engaged in dumping ore into the furnace when there was an explosion of gas. The flames enveloped Andrew Marsley in their deadly fumes and he fell over unconscious. His brother George went to his assistance but he was overcome and Boies, who followed him, was rendered insensible. In spite of their realization that the same fate awaited them, each of the eleven men remaining attempted to succor those first attacked, and every one in his turn was overcome. By this time notice of the accident had reached the workmen below and the gas was shut off. The men were then rescued and taken to the company's emergency hospital. On the way the three named died. The others were promptly resuscitated, and all but two, John Marsley and George Ola, were able to go home.

DISTRICTS ARE RE-ARRANGED

Five Districts Formed Where Three Existed Previously

A re-arrangement has been made of the judicial districts of the province which increases the number from three to five, thus increasing the facility for the discharge of judicial business. Macleod and Lebriège are made each the centre of a district. The Calgary district is reduced in area by this change, and also by the creation of a new district including the country along the C. & E. from Millet to Innisfail. The portion of the province north of Millet forms the Edmonton district. Malcolm Young has been appointed sheriff of the Lebriège district and A. R. Dickson, of Wetaskiwin sheriff of the central district.

COUNCIL JOINS BOARD OF TRADE

Will Welcome Manufacturers to City—C. P. R. Resolution Laid on the Table For One Week.

At last night's meeting of the city council the aldermen decided to co-operate with the board of trade in welcoming and entertaining the manufacturers' association on the occasion of their western tour, and an invitation to visit Edmonton was extended to them, the council appointing itself a committee to entertain. Alderman Bellamy was the only councillor who objected.

The matter came up in the shape of a letter from the secretary of the board of trade who wrote suggesting that the council co-operate with the board in welcoming the manufacturers.

Alderman Manson moved that Aldermen Smith, Picard and Bellamy and Mayor may be appointed a reception committee to act with the board.

"What is expected of the city?" asked Ald. Bellamy. "Are we expected to waste money on these fellows. They have been making the west for a long time and it is about time that they should spend a little of their own money."

Ald. Smith said that this was a very important and influential delegation and it would be a mistake to overlook them. Regarding Ald. Smith's remarks Ald. Bellamy said that the city had entertained all kinds of people and he had got to learn that the city had profited any by the entertainments.

Ald. Picard said that it was to a large extent due to the fact that Edmonton had been hospitable to strangers that the city was so well spoken of. These were the men who were in a position to establish manufacturing and wholesale houses and that was what the city wanted. Edmonton could not afford to overlook them.

The mayor said that Edmonton's hospitality towards strangers was one thing for which the city was famous and it would not do to ignore such an important body as the Manufacturers' Association.

At the suggestion of Ald. Bellamy Ald. Manson's motion was amended to include the whole council in the reception committee, and the secretary was instructed to invite the manufacturers to visit the city.

Another communication was read from the board of trade asking the council's co-operation in securing an east-end entrance for the C.P.R. as outlined in the resolution published in another column of this issue. After considerable discussion the matter was laid over for a week.

MORSE THREATENS INJUNCTION AGAINST CANADIAN NORTHERN

Objects to Switches Being Built Across McKenzie Avenue by C. N. R.—Claims Agreement Gives Him Exclusive Right.

When Alderman Bellamy protested last night at the council meeting against the Grand Trunk Pacific agreement, on the ground that it conferred a monopoly he was evidently speaking from experience—his own experience—as the Grand Trunk has already taken action to prevent the C.N.R. putting in spurs from its main line down the lanes south of MacKenzie avenue.

According to the clauses in question the city by the agreement undertakes to give the Grand Trunk Pacific the exclusive right to build spurs south of its main line along MacKenzie avenue, the G.T.P. on its part agreeing to do all switching for other roads at the lowest minimum charge, which means the lowest charge for switching exacted on any part of its system. It also waives the right to build spurs north across the C.N.R. undertaking to pay the C.N.R. for switching to spurs on the north side.

Since the date on which the agreement was signed by the city delegates to Ottawa, but previous to the Friday meeting at which the agreement was ratified property holders south of MacKenzie have made application for two switches. The first of these was made by Alderman Bellamy himself, acting for the Bellamy Co. He has purchased a lot on Seventh street, facing east, 100 feet south of MacKenzie, and has applied for a switch from the C.N.R. to be built down the lane between Seventh and Eighth streets, his intention being to build a warehouse on Seventh.

The other application was by Manuel & Corriveau for themselves and for the Sawyer-Massey Co. Manuel & Corriveau own the first two lots south of MacKenzie on Eighth and the Sawyer-Massey people the next two, both intending to build warehouses. They applied for leave to build a switch on the lane between Eighth and Ninth.

Permission was granted in both cases by the city council, subject to the consent of the property owners affected and he Canadian Northern is now making application to the railway commission.

mission at Ottawa for the power to lay the spurs.

In the meantime Frank W. Morse takes a hand. Writing under date of August 15th, to the mayor, he says: Montreal, August 15, '06.

Dear Mayor: Mr. Killmer advises me that rights are being given the Canadian Northern to lay spurs south of MacKenzie avenue. This is in direct conflict with our agreement and I hereby enter protest against such privileges being extended to any other company and that any crossings put in since our agreement was made must be removed when proper time comes. We will put in spur tracks according to agreement, if notified to do so."

In a later clause in the letter Mr. Morse writes: We will, if necessary, intervene by injunction to prevent tracks being laid in derogation of our rights.—Yours,

F. W. MORSE.

What the Canadian Northern's program will be under the circumstances is not yet divulged. It is certain that they are applying to the railway commission for the right to lay the switches and it is also certain that the Canadian Northern is thoroughly acquainted with the city's agreement with the Grand Trunk, so that it appears as though the intention of the C. N. R. is to test the agreement.

Whether the railway commission will grant the right to lay the spurs in the face of the city's agreement and whether the C.N.R. will fight an injunction in case they do, both remain to be seen.

In the meantime, as a result of last night's council meeting, the G.T.P. agreement is "up in the air" and the ultimate outcome does not look altogether as certain as it did on Saturday.

feet of Mackenzie Avenue to the G. T. P. He said that the C. N. R. would undoubtedly be heard from and asked what position the city would be in if the city found that it could not hand over that 110 feet.

Solicitor Beck said that the clause provided that the transfer was subject to the approval of the railway commission. If the Canadian Northern made their point good the city was under no obligation.

Ald. Bellamy asked how, if an individual was not permitted to close a street, how could the city close Mackenzie Avenue after lots had been surveyed and registered.

Solicitor Beck said that the city did not agree to close the street. It agreed to permit the G. T. P. to lay rails on the street. The city merely said that it would give consent.

Ald. Bellamy said that the vital point was that clause which prevented any other road from laying spurs south of and across the G. T. P. from Kinistino Avenue to Sixteenth Street. It was virtually a monopoly and the G. T. P. would be able to make a switching charge against all freight delivered south of their track.

Solicitor Beck said that the G. T. P. bound itself to maintain all switches necessary to the south and to operate them at the minimum switching charge. The council had the power to give the Canadian Northern the same privilege on the north side. The Canadian Northern had protested against the McDougall-Short agreement bringing the G. T. P. south of the C. N. R., but it had not objected to the clause which prevented them from building spurs across the main line of the G. T. P.

Ald. Bellamy had other objections as to other clauses, particularly to the clause which required the city for 15 years to pay the cost of making any subways or overhead bridges necessary.

Ald. Manson pointed out that the clause which permitted the company to purchase property south of Mackenzie Avenue would locate the local freight yards there and crowd an already crowded part of the city.

Ald. Latia said that as he understood the case at the time the delegation was sent to Ottawa to get an agreement, it was not expected that the delegation would get the best of it on all points. It was admitted that on some points it did not get the best of it. But on the whole the city got the best agreement it could get.

Solicitor Beck said that this was the agreement that got the Clover Bar crossing. Without it, it would not have gotten the Clover Bar crossing. The delegation understood that if they got an agreement they might get the Clover Bar crossing, but without an agreement, there was a grave doubt as to whether the Clover Bar crossing would be secured.

Ald. May brought the debate to a close by moving that the rules 39 and 55 be suspended and the bylaw ratifying the agreement was read a first and second time.

Ald. Bellamy objected to the third reading on the ground that it required a unanimous vote in order to suspend the rules for a third reading. He thought it would not do any harm to lay it over until next week. He voted against suspending the rules. He said he knew personally from Mr. Brown that the C. N. R. did object to the clauses giving the G. T. P. exclusive switching privileges.

Ald. May offered to move for a reconsideration of the motion calling for a suspension of the rules, but Alderman Bellamy was obdurate and refused to consent, thereby standing the agreement over until the next regular meeting.

Business Men Oppose Project

provide for this protection, it is recommended that the city propose a contribution for the purpose. If secured now, it will be easier; and as the railways benefit largely by these protections, they no doubt would be willing to contribute. In any event the C.E.P. cannot enter without the consent of the city, if the authorities take the matter up and make their demand, the city should contribute a reasonable sum.

The contribution of these subways or bridges would eliminate the necessity for existing and ringing bells.

4. If it is found inadvisable to compel an eastern entrance by the C. P. R., that railway should be compelled to provide at its own cost subways, or overhead bridges, at every crossing in the city, and to use electrical power or locomotives using smokeless coal in the city, and prevent from whistling or ringing bells except on yards common to all railways where the other railways are not so limited.

5. A union station should be installed upon all railways.

6. It is further recommended that application should be made to the board of railway commissioners for an order adjusting the foregoing matters.

7. It is also recommended that the city take the initiative with a view to securing the freest possible exchange of freight traffic between all railways entering the city, and that no unreasonable charges for transferring or switching be allowed.

Mr. Short in supporting the clauses of the report said that the committee had consulted many authorities on the question involved. He argued there would be less difficulty in obtaining the above conveniences and rights now than at any future time when the city had developed. It is necessary for the protection of life and property that bridges and subways be constructed. In the future the bulk of the farmer trade will be from the north and if said crossings are not secured the business will be done north of the tracks. If the C.P.R. comes in by the west entrance it would destroy the residential district in the city. We owe the C.P.R. nothing. If he thought if the city makes a decision stand in the matter the position would be sustained by the railway commission. If the matter was dealt with now the cost of constructing any subway necessary will not be more than $15,000. He held that the railways in the city should be concentrated in one district and absolute protection made against any probable loss of life.

Mr. Clendenen thought that if an east end entrance was forced the Government would give no aid, and it was certain Strathcona would not.

Principal Bell was of the opinion that the resolution was timely and calculated to obviate the inconvenience and danger resulting from a west end entrance of the C.P.R. which would cut the city into four segments and intersect a greater number of residential streets.

Mr. Dowsett said effective steps should be taken to prevent a level crossing at Jasper Avenue.

Ex-Mayor Mackenzie thought that it would be impossible for the C.P.R. to cross Jasper otherwise than by a level crossing. They cannot secure yards south and will be compelled to utilize the yards north of Jasper, to which it would be necessary to descend from an overhead bridge, or ascend from a subway.

Mr. Short in replying to Dr. Clendenen's motion said the committee on civic interests considered solely the city's interests and believed the C.P.R. would do the same. The report was based upon the advice of a high authority in railway engineering. The desideratum in the matter was the protection of life. Mr. Short quoted Mr. F. W. Morse, who said while conducting the negotiations of the entrance of the G.T.P. "the more railways the greater number of one-armed and one-legged men." He moved the adoption of the resolution that it be referred to the city council to take the initiative in carrying the various clauses into effect.

The question of the assessment was left to the civic committee of the whole board who will consider the whole question of the city's assessment.

Mr. Dowsett said the city's assessment which was increased from $21,000 to $33,000 for the same floor area last year. They held this increase was too great and that it is as important to treat industries already established in the city with the same consideration as is extended to others proposed.

Mr. Short said that the policy of the board was to advise reduction in business assessments rather than to increase them.

Mr. Dowsett said his firm had a similar case. They had been assessed $10,000 more for the same floor area this year. He went to the assessor when he found several thousand dollars matter and the difficulty was adjusted satisfactorily.

Mr. W. H. Clark thought a special meeting should be called to deal with the assessment question.

Before the meeting closed Mr. Dowsett introduced the question of increased fire insurance rates. The rates have recently increased. It is a well known fact that all insurance companies were paying handsome dividends before the increase, and Mr. Dowsett wants to know how the insurance companies can justify the rise. He was in favor of an investigation conducted by the Government similar to that taking place in life insurance.

Mr. Short thought that if the New Zealand system were introduced, it would cause an instant reduction. In New Zealand the Government makes insurance and if such a policy were declared in this country the insurance companies would soon "climb down and be a good."

The matter will be carried to the associated boards of trade.

RAVAGES OF EARTHQUAKES

(Special to the Bulletin.)

Buenos Ayres, Aug. 21.—The Nation today published a despatch from Lopez, Bolivia, that 2,000 people lost their lives as the result of earthquake shocks and fire at Valparaiso, and that 170 deaths from the same causes occurred at Lima, 40 at Quilotoa, 35 at Couchibilla, 1 at Potares, and 9 at Pa Placilla, and 6 at Lacalera.

Lima, Peru, Aug. 22.—According to latest reports received here from the scene of the earthquake the town of Quilotoa, situated about 26 miles from Valparaiso, having a population of ten thousand has been completely destroyed. At Lima this morning there was a slight shock, and Huacho was shaken by an earthquake yesterday.

—Strathcona Planimeter.—Dr. McJannet, N. P. was at the meeting of the Strathcona Board of Trade on Monday evening last and when the discussion arose over the high level bridges gave some interesting facts about the situation now previously published. He said that Sir Thomas Shaughnessy had stated that as soon as the bridge plans are completed and estimates of cost computed by this company's bridge architects and engineers Mr. Whyte, chief vice-president would visit Strathcona, Edmonton and the Alberta Provincial Government and confer with them regarding the traffic feature. Mr. Whyte is expected to arrive at any time now and the matter will probably take definite form.

THE REGINA*MURDER CASE

Jury Holds That Henderson Was Shot
With Felonious Intent

The coroner's jury brought in the following verdict in the case of Josiah Gilbert charged with shooting Barrett Henderson: "That Barrett Henderson came to his death on the fifteenth day of August, 1906, on the farm on which Josiah Gilbert was then living, from the charge of a shotgun in the hands of Josiah Gilbert, done with felonious intent."

The following detailed report of the trial is taken from the Leader: Shortly after 10 o'clock last evening, after deliberating for over an hour, the coroner's jury in the now famous Gilbert-Henderson case returned a verdict to the effect that the deceased man Henderson was killed by a gunshot wound fired "with felonious intent" from a gun held by Josiah Gilbert.

The first witness called upon the resumption of the enquiry at 10 a.m. yesterday, was Dr. Meek, who being the monthly attendant at the hospital at the time that Barrett Henderson was admitted, had the case handed over to him. The doctor proceeded to give a technical description of the wound, as well as the general physical condition of the wounded man and the treatment given him. At the request of T. C. Johnson, objected to by W. M. Martin, Gilbert's legal representative, the witness gave the statement of the dying man. After mumbling the words "barn," "gun" and "old man Gilbert," the dying man, according to Dr. Meek, roused himself and said: "He did it on purpose, he did it intentionally," repeating the phrase twice.

In answer to Mr. Martin, witness stated that the gun would have to have been nearly on a level to cause the wound it did. He believed the gun was levelled at Henderson's mouth and if the man was sitting upright in the buggy the gun would have to be at the shoulder.

The evidence of Benjamin Deck, who with Richard Koch drove up to the farm directly after the shooting, was mainly along the lines taken by Dr. Meek. He described how Henderson came up to them and jumped into their rig, crying out: "Drive on, that man is coming to shoot me," how they drove him to where his hired man was, with whom he got into his own rig and drove off to Regina, then (Deck and Koch) following with Gilbert.

The close personal friend of the dead man, P. P. Churchill, took the witness stand next. The chief point of interest in whose testimony was the telling of Henderson's dying account of how the shooting occurred. "I asked Henderson how it happened," said the witness, and he told me in these words: "He was going out and the old man called him back and when he turned to answer his call he shot him." He mentioned no name.

The objection of Mr. Martin to this evidence was noted by the coroner. In the afternoon the first witness called was Henderson's hired man McKinnon, who briefly related what he knew of the tragedy. His evidence, however, disclosing nothing startling. At the conclusion of his examination the witness stand was taken by Sergeant Wilkinson, to whom Josiah Gilbert surrendered himself and who has since been engaged with Inspector Hefferman in conducting an investigation at the Gilbert farm. The following is the Sergeant's opening statement:

Sergeant Wilkinson—On morning of 15th at 12:05 Josiah Gilbert came to the police station with Richard Koch and Benj. Deck. Josiah Gilbert made the following statement:

W. M. Martin—I object.

Sergeant Wilkinson—He told me that there had been a man shot on a farm. He said he sold his farm to a man named Henderson two months ago. Henderson came to his farm that morning to get milk and provisions to take two miles north to his own section where he had a steam plow. Gilbert was not at the house. Gilbert saw Henderson going away and called him back to look at the wheat. He had a single barreled shotgun in the stable. He went to get it. Gilbert was coming out of the stable and at the same time drawing the shotgun out of the corner. Gilbert was not in a hurry. He did not wish to keep Mr. Henderson waiting as he might get angry. Gilbert was stepping out of the stable and he was watching the step which was a drop of from twelve to eighteen inches. While doing this the gun caught against the door casing and went off into Henderson's face. Henderson was five yards away. He went on to tell me that Henderson dropped out of the buggy after having been shot. The explosion almost knocked Gilbert down. Henderson got up, ran along the east side of the barn to the centre of the east side. He went in the door and through the stable and out of the south door. Gilbert chased him all the way to try to catch him. Henderson stumbled at the fence and Gilbert got within five yards of him. Henderson looked round and saw Gilbert and started to run again. He had the gun in his hand at this time. Then he went on to tell how these two men drove up, Deck and Koch. He told me that he did not realize that he had the gun in his hand. He told me that he was going to use the gun to shoot geese and that he was going to drive around the wheat with Mr. Henderson. He did not know it was loaded and it had not been used for a month. I asked him if he kept the gun in the stable and he said no. He told me the shooting was an accident. That was all the conversation I had with Mr. Gilbert.

I examined the ground and the point where the blood stains were found furthest north away from the stable door was 34 feet and directly in front of the door. I might say that Mr. Gilbert's statement to me was that he was firing the gun out of the corner and stepping out of the door at the same time was an utter impossibility, because the doors open in the centre and back on to the corner.

Inspector Hefferman at the conclusion of the Sergeant's statement proceeded to question him at some length.

Inspector Hefferman—You made a search for the missing gun?
Sergeant Wilkinson—I did.

Q.—Did you find it?
A.—No.

Further particulars were directed to show that Gilbert could not from the nature of the ground, have seen Koch and Deck approaching him until the moment when according to Koch, he threw the gun away.

Q.—Do you know whether other parties have been searching for this gun?
A.—I do.

Q.—With what success?
A.—With the same success as myself.

Q.—If that gun was thrown where Koch says it was would it have been possible to find it?
A.—Yes it must have been found.

Q.—How far was the farm house from where he was shot?
A.—From 40 to 50 yards.

Q.—Did the bloodstains go any way in the direction of the house?
A.—No, they did not.

Q.—Did you visit a shed adjoining Gilbert's house yesterday?
A.—Yes.

Q.—Did you notice a table there?
A.—Yes.

Q.—What else did you notice?
A.—Gunpowder and a tin box.

Q.—From an examination of the gunpowder, had it been there long?
A.—No, it was fresh and near a window.

Q.—Was the table tidy?
A.—It was clean with the exception of the gun powder and tin box and glass caps for a muzzle loader.

Q.—Did you notice anything else in the way of ammunition?
A.—There was some small shot in the same box.

Q.—Do you know where Gilbert is?
A.—In Regina jail. I arrested him.

Q.—Was he searched?
A.—Yes.

Q.—What was found?
A.—A pen knife, a piece of binder twine, and a black piece of paper.

Q.—Any cartridges.
A.—Nothing at all.

Q.—Any slugs?
A.—None whatever.

Q.—So that if he was going out with an empty gun to shoot geese that morning he had nothing to load his gun with.

A.—He had nothing on his person. The court at this stage adjourned until 8 p.m.

Upon resuming in the evening, the coroner, Dr. Seymour, began his summing up of the evidence. He told the jury that they must base on the evidence, and not on any opinions they might have formed outside. The horizontal nature of the wound as described by Dr. Hefferman was considered, showing, as it did, that the gun was held either upwards or downwards. That fact was against the statement of Gilbert that it went off accidentally. He would also call their attention to the slugs. It seemed to him that the fact of the gun having been loaded with slugs showed a great degree of malice. Slugs were not usually used in killing animals found round here.

As to the motive the evidence of Mr. Boyle showed that there existed a very material evidence for the shooting. The evidence of Koch was given in a clear and straight forward manner. He had behaved as a man should under such circumstances, both towards the wounded man and Gilbert.

In the case of a man shooting another accidentally with a gun it should not sound reasonable that he should chase after the wounded man with the gun in his hand. The fact of dropping the gun upon seeing the wounded Koch and Deck appear showed a feeling of guilt. Henderson's statement to Koch that Gilbert had shot him purposely must be taken as good evidence, notwithstanding the objection lodged by Mr. Martin.

Henderson's behaviour all I want to show that he had been shot by Gilbert and that he was positive on his part that the shooting was not accidental. If he had been accidentally shot, the first place he would have gone to would have been the house. He, however, tried to get as far as possible away from Gilbert and Gilbert's house. There was nothing in the evidence to show that Gilbert had been in any hurry to render any assistance that he could or should in the case of a man mortally wounded.

Gilbert did not appear to have told the same story twice. To Koch he had said that he was coming out of the door when the gun struck the casing. To the sergeant he stated that he was pulling the gun out of the corner. Such conflicting statements showed the unreliability of Gilbert's statements. Gilbert had said that he did not know the gun was loaded. The stable was not the customary place to keep a gun in.

At the conclusion of the coroner's summing up the room was cleared and the jury proceeded to consider their verdict.

Shortly after 10 o'clock the public were again admitted to the chamber and Coroner Seymour read the verdict signed by the six jurors: E. R. Rouse (foreman), Fred Craythorn, W. Ray, F. B. Lundv, W. M. VanValken-ber and Wm. Burton, as follows:

That Barrett Henderson came to his death on the fifteenth day of August 1906 on the farm on which Josiah Gilbert was then living, from the charge of a shotgun in the hands of Josiah Gilbert, done with felonious intent.

THE HARVESTER EXCURSIONS

The harvesting of the western Canadian crop has for many years been an annual affair of national concern. For many years a regular event in the summer season in eastern Canada has been the departure of solid trains of husky farm hands and laborers, to help garner the crop of the West. Every corner of the eastern provinces has sent its quota and every branch of industry has felt the drain of the men attracted by the high wages and cheap rates which combined to offer an inexpensive or even a financially profitable outing on the plains.

Naturally not all of those who came West to help in the harvest returned to reside permanently in the east. The wide-awake harvester was not long in discovering that it was both possible and advisable for him to duplicate the success of his temporary western employer. In consequence many who came or remained to sow. This another means was brought into play to transport the farm laborer and the industrial employee of the east like the farmer of the west.

The consequence of the transference of employees from the farms and factories of eastern Canada to the home-lands of the West has naturally been to lessen the number in the east available for the annual migration to the harvest fields and an innovation has been made this year in bringing men from the Mother Lands across the Atlantic. The result of this, will doubtless be similar to that of the annual excursions from the other provinces of the Dominion and many Britons, taking advantage of low rates and good wages will be led to visit the West under conditions heretofore calculated to show them the capabilities of the country. A largely increased settlement of British farm people in the West should be the ultimate outcome.

"HYPHENATED CANADIANS"

Under this head the Toronto Star makes the following sensible remarks on Canadians who belong to the idea of Canadian nationality by perpetuating the memory of their racial origin.

"What is required in this country is to abolish this hyphenated Canadianism. We have been told that it is wiser to fix the responsibility for the hyphenated habit on the people of Quebec; that they call themselves Canadians, and that it is outsiders who call them French-Canadians. Let us all drop it, and drop not only the hyphenated name, but the idea which it represents.

"Even have been expressed the idea that the country should become Americanized by the introduction of American capital or the flow of American settlers into the West. If there is any danger, it lies not in the Americans but in ourselves. These people come from a country where the hyphen is unknown. The Italian bananaman in New York calls himself an American, and becomes an American. The American who comes to settle in Canada might to all intents be Canadian, and become a Canadian. He does not, it may be because he does not find here a strong, dominant, clear Canadianism to take the place of his old associations. If he insists upon celebrating the Fourth of July in Canada, it may be because he does not find in celebrating the first of July with hearty enthusiasm and with an intelligent appreciation of what it means. Suppose we make a beginning in 1907, when the fortieth anniversary of Confederation will be celebrated. Americanism will certainly beat hyphenated Canadianism. It will not beat Canadianism—clear-cut, simple, and united."

"PROTECTIONIST" ERRORS

The Lethbridge News castigates an eastern exchange for saying that: "Hampered by tariffs at home, the American manufacturers, with all their rebates and drawbacks, could not compete in a free market with the British manufacturers."

The News imagines it has crammed the whole tariff problem into a nutshell when it says: "If this be so, how is it that the American manufacturer can pay the full duty and still sell millions of dollars worth of boots and shoes in Canada; while the British manufacturer, who has to pay only two-thirds of the duty, sells practically none at all? You cannot go into a Canadian store without seeing American shoes. Do you see any from Great Britain? Yet the Globe says that the American manufacturer, because he buys his raw material and machinery in a protected market, cannot compete on equal terms with the British manufacturer who buys in a 'free' market."

Continuing the News says: "Why, American shoes are sold in this country at higher prices than in the United States and still the manufacturers of Great Britain do not seem able to compete with them."

This simply proves that the tariff on United States boots plus the freight from the United States is less than two-thirds the tariff on United States boots plus the freight from Great Britain.

The conclusion of the News is: "Take it from the point of view of the consumer, our tariff is lower than that of the United States, yet boots and shoes are cheaper there than here."

This is equivalent to saying that Canadian manufacturers can not or will not make boots and shoes at the price at which they are sold in the United States plus the 25 per cent. duty on such goods imported into Canada. The freight rates could be equalized or even made an advantage by the proper location of the Canadian factories. A tariff which would give the Canadian manufacturers more than this would be worse than a hold-up—it would be an outrage.

Agricultural Development of Canada

Maurice Spauld of the Pittsburgh Post and one of the members of the Pennsylvania Editorial Association, who recently toured the West writes as follows to his paper:

Edmonton, Alberta, Aug. 4.—This, for the present, is the northwestern outpost of the great Western Canadian wheat country, of which people in the United States have heard so much in the last few years. Here the boom that is sweeping the region has attained its greatest intensity. No need to strain the ear to hear "the tramp of the coming millions." It forces itself on the attention at every turn. The influx of population is beyond the capacity of the towns to take care of. It is mostly of farmers seeking homes on the rich and cheap new lands. But many laborers are also rushing in to work on the several new lines of railway that are criss-crossing the region and creeping out north and west. Business men and manufacturers in lesser number are coming to seek openings in various lines.

Large areas of the primeval prairie soil are being broken up in every direction in widening circles about this and scores of other towns and settlements in Saskatchewan, and in this specially favored province of Alberta. Along the lines of the Canadian Northern and Canadian Pacific settlements of over-night growth dot the plains. Behind them for 40 to 50 miles much of the land is already under cultivation. There is more untilled land immediately adjacent to the railroads than a few miles back, it is said, for the reason that the lands on the roads are held at higher prices.

WHEAT GROWING REGION.

About Edmonton curves the broad and swift-flowing stream of the north branch of the great Saskatchewan, which rises three or four hundred miles to the west in the Rockies and finds an outlet in Lake Winnipeg, far to the East. The country is rolling and broken, it is level, and the soil consists of a rich loam from 12 to 20 inches deep. And there on every hand stretch wheat fields, and more wheat fields and still wheat fields, clear to the distant and hazy horizon line. This year the stand of wheat is good and the crop gives every promise of being big if not a bumper.

The Edmonton district is not exclusively a wheat-growing region. Cattle and horses of fine breeds are raised in considerable numbers, and there is more mixed farming than to the south and east. Cattle and horses are left on the range all winter. In addition to the range grass they are provided with straw feed, and open sheds are built at convenient intervals in which they may find shelter when the weather is exceptionally severe. But the winters as a rule are far less severe than in our northern tier of States, or even in Nebraska and Iowa.

There is general complaint from farmers that for the last two or three years there has not been enough snow to make good sleighing. Once in a while the mercury gets down to 30 or even 40 below, but at such times there is no wind, it is said, and the dryness of the atmosphere makes the sensible cold less than it is in more humid regions where the mercury is at zero.

WEATHER IN WINTER.

It is the general testimony of all who have been in the Edmonton region in the winter that the weather is delightfully exhilarating and healthful. How remarkable this is will be fully understood when it is stated that the city of Edmonton is 325 miles north of the American boundary line. The relative mildness of the climate in this far Northern region is due to the chinook winds that, generated by the Japan current in the Pacific ocean, sweep over the low upper ranges of the Rockies and temper the weather on the vast plains of Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Excellent vegetables are raised in the region, and even 400 miles farther north, in the Peace river valley. At the bustling town of Prince Albert, which lies a little south of and a couple of hundred miles east of Edmonton, in Saskatchewan, they showed us on July 20 fine peas, string beans, onions and potatoes which had been raised in the gardens of the neighborhood. Luscious strawberries and as fine and well-flavored raspberries as one would wish to eat grow wild in great profusion all through this country.

Both Edmonton and Prince Albert have the advantage of varied industries which their citizens believe will make them in time larger and more thriving cities than any of the rival towns that are springing up all over the plains of Saskatchewan and Alberta. Both towns are older than their rivals. Edmonton has been a Hudson Bay Company post for more than 100 years, and it is still the great fur market for the immense wilderness that stretches away north to the Arctic ocean.

DOG TRAIN STILL USED.

Into both towns the dog trains still glide every winter with their loads of furs, skins and other loot of the wilderness. The fur trade of Prince Albert last year amounted to more than $300,000. That of Edmonton was in the neighborhood of a million. The most valuable furs coming to these markets are black and silver fox, mink, otter and fisher. At Edmonton they show you perfect black fox skins for which as high as $1,800 is asked. Perfect silver fox skins range in price from $240 to $600.

The Hudson Bay Company and its great rival, Revillon Brothers, of Montreal, are the principal buyers of furs and all other loot of the wilderness. There is a certain romantic interest about this region because of its association with the Hudson Bay Company and its voyageurs, who have figured in so many tales of the wilderness dear to the hearts of boys the world around. In almost every town they show you the Hudson Bay Company's "fort" and in the cities the finest stores have the name of the company over their doors.

The company has fought hard against the invasion of its domain by the farmer and the railroad. It is charged with having systematically discouraged the settlement of these vast wheat-producing plains in order to keep them in their primitive condition for its own purposes. But the railroads are "letting in" civilization, as Rudyard Kipling would say, and the exclusive domain of the "Gentlemen Adventurers of England Trading into Hudson's Bay," to use the official title of the company, is steadily diminishing. But it continues to take toll from most of the trade of all Canada; it gets its share of all the dominion lands surveyed and opened to settlement, in accordance with the provisions of the charter granted to it in 1670; and it is not getting distanced in the race for the retail and wholesale trade of the cities and towns of modern Canada.

NOT BEHIND THE TIMES.

Old as the company is and peculiar as the role it has played in the commercial drama of the Western continent, it is not getting left behind in the modern movement. The men who are quietly managing it in these days are plainly well up-to-date and do not mean to be put out of business by the new-fangled methods of twentieth century commercialism. And even if it be true that agriculture can flourish for nearly a thousand miles north of the American boundary in western Canada, and the farmer and the stock raiser let in civilization four or five hundred miles north of the present "last west" at Edmonton, there will still remain to the Hudson Bay company a vast domain of wilderness still farther North where only the trapper and hunter will ever be able to make a living.

Edmonton is fortunate in having inexhaustible supplies of coal at its very doors. There is also natural gas, but the pressure is poor. Her supply of cheap fuel gives the town a great advantage over all her rivals in the wheat-growing district and seems bound to make her a manufacturing centre in the not distant future. Shops and factories of various kinds are already in operation in the town and are supplied with power by the municipality, which has gone in for municipal ownership, like most of the cities of Canada. There are many fine business buildings and the good residence district contains as pretty homes as one would wish to see. Rents are high, as might be expected in a town where a big boom is on. A modest six-room cottage in the suburbs rents for from $20 to $25 a month. Although the population is only about 12,000, there are 13 banks in Edmonton. These are branches of the big banking concerns that have their headquarters in Montreal, Toronto and other Eastern cities. The system of the branch banks which prevails in Canada is regarded by the Canadians as superior to our banking system.

They claim it is a great aid in developing the country, as it insures banking facilities to the smallest towns and provides a more elastic currency than is possible under our system.

A YEAR OLD TOWN.

Vegreville is a new town three or four hours' ride from Edmonton. It is not yet a year old and presents all the characteristics of one of the mushroom towns to be seen scattered over our own Western plains. Many of the inhabitants are still living in tents. But there are branches of three or four of the big banking concerns in the settlement just the same.

A striking characteristic of all these towns is the good order that prevails. Saskatoon is a booming three-year-old city of about 5,000 inhabitants on the Canadian Northern. The most serious crime committed in its history, it is said, occurred two years ago, when a drunken fellow drew a pistol on a companion. He did not shoot, but the affair created great excitement and the offender was so severely fined that the carrying of guns has since been practically unknown in Saskatoon. Disreputable houses are not permitted within the limits of any of these towns or cities. They establish themselves outside the town boundaries, but even there they are not secure from molestation if they become offensive. The mounted police keep their eyes on them and put them out of business if they think best. The good order that prevails in all this Canadian frontier country differentiates it strikingly from our own West. The great bulk of the inhabitants are from the province of Ontario and they are an orderly, law-abiding people.

WONDERFUL BEAVER FARM IN CANADA.

Oxbow, Sask., Aug. 21.—On the farm of Rev. W. E. Christmas, a few miles from this town, exists one of the few beaver farms of Canada. Within the limits of the farm are five large dams, peopled by some two hundred beavers. The banks of the Souris river which runs through the farm, are fringed with poplar trees, supplying the beaver with the best of building material and also with his daily bread. According to a law passed in 1896 it is illegal to kill beavers until the fall of 1908 consequently this colony is waxing strong and are multiplying very rapidly. Having been protected from the trappers for the past ten years they are becoming very tame and do not seem to mind a casual onlooker, although they do most of their work by moonlight. One night these beavers cut down fifty-two trees, according to Rev. Mr. Christmas, who takes a great deal of interest in his little tenants and watches carefully to see no harm comes to them. These beavers are very industrious and have no use for one of their number who refuses to do his share of the work. When such a member of the flock is noticed the others drive him away to live in solitude and when such beavers are found by a trapper they are known as "lachelors." It takes the beavers but a short time to fell a large-sized tree and they are able to throw it in any direction desired. When once felled the tree is quickly cut up into lengths for houses, dams or food as may be required. The house of the beaver is built on the bank of the river with its entrance under water. Once having built the entrance the rest of the house is started, the whole colony working at the house until it is finished and when completed it is warm, dry and cosy. Although it is impossible for the beavers to live for long under water the entrance is built for some distance under the water and then there is a long tunnel connecting the house with the water. A beaver family usually consists of four or five. The young come into the world with eyes wide open. The young ones live with their parents for two years and then they are made to shift for themselves. The full grown beaver measures about two feet in length with a tail some ten inches long which he can use as a spade or trowel as well as a paddle. The average age is fifteen years although some have been known to live as old as twenty but such cases are said to be rare. When the animal is 9 years of age its pelt is at its prime and will fetch from $10 to $12 in Minneapolis.

BRITISH MEDICAL ASSOCIATION AT TORONTO

(Special to the Bulletin)
Toronto, Aug. 21. — The seventy-fourth annual meeting of the British Medical Association opens here this afternoon and for weeks past medical men have been flocking to this city from all quarters of the British Empire. This is the second time in the history of the association that it has met held outside Great Britain. Professor R. A. Reeve dean of the faculty of medicine at Toronto University, will occupy the chair. The wide area covered by modern medicine has made it necessary to divide the delegates into thirteen sections, each section holding special meetings, but several meetings will be held which will be attended by all the delegates. These thirteen sections whose names might require some explanation to even well informed people are those devoted to a ology, dermatology, laryngology and otology, medicine, obstetrics and gynaecology, ophthalmology, paediatrics, pathology and bacteriology, physiology, psychology, state medicine, surgery and therapeutics. To the specialists who meet in any of these sections the need will be apparent for further divisions. The heavy work of the convention will be done by the thirteen sections which will meet each morning at 9.30 o'clock, the afternoon and evening sessions being given up to discussion by the delegates in an open meeting. The meeting closes on Friday evening when an extensive program of entertainments has been arranged. Excursions have been arranged for Saturday when the English visitors will be shown the points of interest in the locality. Amongst the English visitors are the following: Sir Victor Horsley, F.R.S.; Sir James Barr, M.D.; Dr. W.S.A. Griffith.

ZORAYA WINS
FISHER CUP

Fisher Trophy Comes to Toronto—Iroquois Was Beaten by a Clear Mile and a Quarter

Charlotte, N.Y. Aug. 13.—The Fisher Cup comes to Toronto. Zoraya, the R. C. Y. C. challenger, made it two straight today and thoroughly satisfied the Rochesterians that she is a better boat than Iroquois in any sort of a wind. Today's race was sailed under perfect Iroquois weather, a light wind and a smooth sea, and the Canadian craft did everything, but still circles around the Heroncraft sloop. Zoraya beat her home by a clear mile and a quarter.

The difference in time was 12.09. Zoraya beat the defender both ways of the course which was a nine-mile journey to windward and return. Going out to weather the Myrie boat both outpointed and outfought the Iroquois, and even coming home the Toronto boat had the speed of the pair.

The start was as pretty a battle as one would want to see. They were at it hammer and tongs right from the preparatory gun, and to give him credit Commodore Christie hated Skipper Jarvis slightly at the getway. At the preparatory gun both headed eastward on the port tack, and Iroquois had the weather position and with five minutes left to go, Skipper Jarvis suddenly gybed under Iroquois' lee, but Christie was more awake and covered him in instantly. He blanketed Zoraya and passed her. Jarvis took Zoraya down to the flag and gybed around it so closely that it looked as if he had smoked Iroquois off, but Christie gybed too, and catching him beyond the flag again blanketed Zoraya. Then they split tracks a moment, but when they came back Iroquois again assumed the weather berth, and though Skipper Jarvis gybed again, held it.

Then the gun was fired and Christie took Iroquois across three lengths ahead of Zoraya. Zoraya, however, cut the flag close and had a little bit of the windward on the defender. Both were late crossing, as the time shows:

Iroquois ..... 12.29.31
Zoraya ..... 12.20.34

Once across the line Zoraya started to outpoint the defender. She stood away higher and footed so fast that six minutes after the start when Iroquois came about on the port tack she was both to weather and ahead. Christie only held his tack a moment, and when he brought Iroquois back to the starboard stretch Zoraya followed like a flash. On this stretch Iroquois commenced to sail faster, and she travelled smarter than Zoraya, but the Toronto craft kept working out to windward and held her safe for the nonce at least. For five minutes Iroquois seemed to have all the speed. Then the boat from over the lake started out to do some fast work, and when Iroquois came about at 12.45 on the port track Zoraya was a clear two hundred yards to weather and the same distance or more ahead. Then Christie tried to make his craft do some pointing, but it availed him nothing. At 12.55 Skipper Jarvis came about to the starboard stretch and laid up until he got Iroquois dead under her lee. Then he came about and stood down the lake breaking the breeze for the defender. At 1.01 Christie tried to break tacks, but the Canuck skipper refused to let him away and came about dead ahead of him. They stood on until 1.01 when the Iroquois came around on the port tack. Of course

Zoraya followed, and they stood eastward until 1.57, when Iroquois led around again, and they made a couple of short stretches in a falling wind. At 2 o'clock they were still two miles off the weather buoy. Then they came about and laid the mark for awhile, but when the wind dropped lighter still neither could make it, and at 2.30 Zoraya came around for the mark, and Iroquois followed her 4-1-2 minutes later, and Zoraya went back to the eastward at 2.58 and Iroquois almost immediately followed suit.

Zoraya only made a short stretch, and then made a buoy. Iroquois made another hitch eastward, but still failed to make the mark. She stood on by and at 3 p.m. went on the port tack and led the flag. The time at the weather mark—

Zoraya ..... 2.48.16
Iroquois ..... 3.01.17
Zoraya led by 13.07.

Her actual gain was 13.23. Both crews did some phenomenal work with the balloon canvas. Zoraya came down on the mark with her balloon jib already on the forestay in stops. The instant she rounded it was broken out, and filled away three seconds after she poked her bow across. The spinnaker was set flying and it was full and drawing fifteen seconds after the mark was passed. Iroquois' crew worked like fiends when they reached the mark, and the Canuck Corinthians had not anything on them in the matter of speed. Their light head sail was broken out the instant her head swung around, and her spinnaker went aloft like a thing of life. The light sail sails on both races filled away nicely in the gentle wind, but when the Yankee sloop settled ahead and she could not hope to catch her, barring accidents. A mile after the Iroquois rounded the mark the wind freshened up. This benefited Iroquois, for she got the wind first. It bulled her up on the leader, but after it reached Zoraya she started to pull away again. Zoraya though she lost in time the run to leeward, gained in distance.

The finish—
Zoraya ..... 4.45.36.
Iroquois ..... 4.57.45.

CALGARY SCALPS
TO GO ON FENCE

Ball Series Arranged For Thursday, Friday and Saturday—Game in Banff Probably on Monday

Calgary scalps will again dangle on the fence surrounding the ball arena in the cow camp this week. The three game series for Thursday, Friday and Saturday has been arranged for and the team leaves this afternoon to fill the engagement. A game will probably be pulled off in Banff as well, the team going up to the mountain resort on Sunday, taking a swim in the sulphur pool and spending Monday afternoon putting it over the cliff dwellers.

The line-up of the Edmonton team will be the same as on the last appearance here. Calgary has a few changes to make. Johnny Donovan, the erstwhile first baseman of the cow herders, who came in with the Anacortes bunch and was roped and branded by Calgary before he could escape from the country will be tethered to the initial sack. The series should be highly exciting.

GRAIN MEN IN EDMONTON

Western Grain Dealers Spent Yesterday in Town

Sixty-five grain dealers, representing the most powerful grain operators in Canada and United States spent 13 hours in Edmonton Monday night and Tuesday seeing the capital of Alberta under the guidance of the mayor and secretary of the board of trade.

The special train on which the party is travelling pulled into the C.N.R. station at 9 o'clock Monday, three days out from Winnipeg. There are 65 members in the party and there are eight cars in the special train on which they are travelling, including a baggage car, diner, a couple of day coaches, three of the Canadian Northern's finest Pullmans and the private car of the Canadian Pacific officials, Messrs. Abbott, Peters, and Griffin, who are travelling with the excursion.

The grain men's excursion is an annual event but this is the first occasion on which they have come as far west as Alberta and so many of the party it was the first visit to Edmonton. The party has no hard and fast schedule or itinerary, going pretty much when they please and staying at any point along the line as long as they think necessary to look into the crop prospects. Leaving Winnipeg on Friday morning last they went up to Prince Albert over the Prince Albert branch, thence back to Warman and west over the C.N.R. to Edmonton, stopping at Battleford, Saskatoon and taking a run down to Regina over the Regina and Long Lake. W. T. Finlay, minister of agriculture for Alberta, joined the party at Regina and will accompany them on their round of southern Alberta.

They were announced to arrive in the city at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, but owing to stops along the road did not reach here until 9 in the evening. They were met at the station by the mayor, the secretary of the board of trade and several other prominent citizens, who welcomed them to the city. Many members of the party spent a few hours down town last night and this morning spent a couple of quiet hours before the train left, looking over the city.

Probably the most important and influential contingent in the party are the American members who came up from Minneapolis. They are George C. Bagley, Minneapolis; Finlay Burrell, Chicago; J. F. Whallon, Minneapolis; G. R. Hunt, Jr., Louisville, Ky.; B. H. Brainerd, Springfield, Ill.; W. A. Kerr, Minneapolis; and C. H. Hood, of Hood & Paine, Minneapolis.

"Judge" W. A. Kerr, of Minneapolis, has been closely identified for some years with large milling and grain firms in Minneapolis, being counsel in numerous important legal cases.

Finlay Burrell, the only representative of Chicago in the party, is head of the grain firm of Finlay Burrell & Co. The firm are members of the New York stock exchange, the Chicago board of trade, the Minneapolis chamber of commerce, and the Winnipeg grain exchange.

J. F. Whallon, senior member of the Whallon, Case Co., is a grain and stock broker of Minneapolis, where the firm does a large business. Mr. Whallon's business partner is Geo. C. Bagley, of the Geo. C. Bagley Co. Mr. Bagley is interested in a line of elevators in Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota, the various systems of elevators being the Atlantic, the Royal the Homestead and the Geo. C. Bagley Co. The firm are members of the New York stock exchange, and do a grain and stock brokerage business in the Twin Cities.

G. R. Hunt, of Louisville, Kentucky, usually known as Bob Hunt, is declared to be the most popular young man in Louisville, where his firm does the largest stock and brokerage business in Kentucky.

B. H. Brainerd, of Springfield, Ill., is connected with the firm of Brainerd & Higgins, Springfield, of which his brother is the senior member. This firm deals very extensively in wheat, having already purchased one and one-half million dollars' worth of cash wheat of the present crop.

Camrose Mail: On Monday afternoon two men named Stevenson and Kyle met with an untimely end while digging a well on the place of Kyle senior, their deaths being caused by the accumulation of foul air. Some time had to elapse before the bodies were recovered, grappling irons having to be sent for, before the remains could be brought to the surface.

The Camrose Mail says that it took fourteen days for a consignment of goods to reach Camrose from Edmonton.

Regina citizens are threatening to issue an injunction against the city council to restrain them from laying crosswalk blocks when the citizens petitioned for a bitulithic pavement. As property owners, they claim the right to determine the kind of pavement they have to pay for.

S. Fisher, a Regina farmer, says that threshing will cost 7 cents a bushel owing to the scarcity of labor.

Calgary Herald: For some time the wholesale fruitmen of Alberta have been trying to secure a provincial inspector for the inspection of the fruit that markets in the city. Manitoba and British Columbia already have their provincial officials, and the merchants in this province believe they are entitled to the same consideration. As it is today, the Ontario shipper often sends out apples as No. 1 which should properly be graded as No. 3, and the consignee has no redress. The methods of packing would be more satisfactory in case there were an inspector on the spot to see the law enforced.

Regina Standard: The taking of the civic census has commenced and the enumerators are now hard at work. ## ANOTHER MIX OVER MIXER

The cement mixer was again the subject of a little tilt at the council meeting last night. When accounts were presented Ald. Calhoun objected to the trench machine being paid for until the cement mixer was working satisfactorily. Both he understood, were supplied by the same people. Commissioner Hargrave explained that the cement mixer was furnished by the Bellamy Co., and the trench machine was purchased direct from the makers, W. H. C. Mussen Co.

Ald. Calhoun withdrew his objection.

Ald. Bellamy said that Ald. Calhoun was afraid the Bellamy company would get a dollar out of the city. He maintained that the mixer would work.

Ald. Calhoun: "Not necessarily; but when machinery is supplied by the Bellamy company and the manager of that company was a member of the council, he should see to it that the city got satisfaction.

The accounts were adopted.

FLETCHER MUSIC METHOD

Miss Ruth Ritchie, teacher of the Fletcher Music Method will give a demonstration of this famous system, in Edmonton early in Sept. with a view to opening classes there, date given later on.

This method is especially for the young whose struggles with the old system of teaching music, are only too well known to all mothers and teachers.

For those not knowing anything of this method will find an explanation in the following taken from the Musical Courier of July, 1906: "The Fletcher Musical Association was formed in 1898 for the purpose of developing and protecting a system for teaching music to children in an absolutely logical and yet enjoyable way, thus aiming to rob music of its terrors and drudgery and yet accomplish broader results than with the old fashioned method of instruction.

The teachers of the Fletcher Music Method are not only required to learn how to teach the method but are also obliged to actually do the things themselves, in order that they may be in an absolute position to impart their knowledge to children at a Fletcher Method.

Evelyn Fletcher-Copp is the originator of the Fletcher Music Method for children and her original patented apparatus is a combination of unusually interesting and instructive devices.

The musical scale ladder, the wooden note groups, dummy piano keyboard with every black and white key properly named according to its staff position and the five long staff tapes stretched upon a table are only a few of the clever devices incorporated in the apparatus of the Fletcher Music Method. Interesting musical games are played with the ladder, note blocks, etc., so that the children learn musical rudiments by direct appeal to the child's fancy, and not by the tedious and discouraging hours of drudgery at the piano that the old fashioned method of teaching music to children required. Many an otherwise bright pupil has been discouraged at the start via the old line, uninteresting system of teaching, every day feature of which is happily eliminated by the Fletcher Music Method. This system not only teaches a child music, but also to perform on the piano, besides modulation and composition. When Fletcher Music Method children enter the world of melody later on they do so with a fundamental training of rare value, and they are fully equipped for the profession."

FALL COATS -- FALL COATS

--- AT THE ---

Hudson's Bay Stores.

The sharp chilly weather which we have been experiencing this last few days has created something like a "boom" in ladies coats.

That large shipment of samples and exclusive styles which we recently received is disappearing very fast. So cure your coat now before they are all gone.

Some beautiful styles in Grey Tweed mixtures, trimmed with colored velvet are still to be seen in all sizes.

A few exclusive styles in ladies fur coats, made in Brown, Green, Blue and Black with mink, fox or sable collars and lined with white squirrel, grey squirrel or mink. These goods are decidedly choice, and ladies contemplating buying a fur coat this season, would do well by purchasing now.

Remember--The FIRST shipment of FURS is always the BEST, and the BEST always go FIRST.
